

Just plain tired of the hang up, late calls, unwanted calls. The stress of a late call when in your mind it could only be an emergency from a family member. The worst thing is it has gotten to be a every day thing from the time i get home from work the phone starts ringing.

Please listen to my and others comments and do something about this invasion of privacy.

Thank you